Preface

Prayer is believers' ascension.

Prophet Mohanunad (blessing of God be upon him and his descendants)

Today and yesterday's pain which is shouldered by history, the loneliness man feels in the earthly world and the engulfing flames of feeling love and attachment to a sublime and transcendental being in his heart signify the fact that he needs having relationship with the mighty being and wise creator.

Prayer is the most beautiful type of worship. It can be simulated to a gurgling spring in which man cleans himself break with the outer and inner impurities, ignorance and temptations and purifies his nature in the closest with God.

Prayer is both an individual and social worship which has valuable effects in building one and society. Prayer renders all cultural, political, social and economic relations right and evolves individuals and also societies. The wisdom of prayer is very important in social life. A monotheist only worships God in his prayer and seeks help just from Him in order to step in His way and avoid all darkness and negligence.

The spirit of prayer is the remembrance of God and humility towards Him and the collection of utterances and practices mandated by God is the best template for human spirit and the closest way to the desired destination.

There are numerous verses in the Holy Qur'an describing and defining prayer which reveal the significance and position of this divine necessity with the great God. Each of these verses contains its own message and expresses a particular aspect of prayer. Some talk about its historical development, some about its significance and effects and some about its liturgy and rules.

The present book contains 184 verses of the Holy Qur'an's shining verses along with English translation under 200 topics with the subject matter of divine worship and its crystal clear manifestation, "Prayer". It is a step towards clarifying the reality of prayer from Qur'an's vantage point. Hoping in God's contribution and Imam Mahdi's attention, we hope it be helpful for all.
