Foreword

Speaking is one of the four language skills (reading, writing, listening and speaking). It is the means through which learners can communicate with others to achieve certain goals or to express their opinions, intentions, hopes and viewpoints. In addition, people who know a language are referred to as 'speakers' of that language. Furthermore, in almost any setting, speaking is the most frequently used language skill. It is generally believed that speaking is used twice as much as reading and writing in our communication. Speaking has usually been compared to writing, both being considered "productive skills", as opposed to the "receptive skills" of reading and listening. Speaking has been classified to monologue and dialogue.

Learning English is an exciting journey that can change your life by introducing you to new cultures, people and places. Also, speaking English will bring you so many more job opportunities. But in order to have these benefits, first you need to learn the language. So what's the best way to teach and learn English in the shortest amount of time? Various methods and techniques have been presented to help language teachers teach English. The present book offers some suggestions to EFL language teachers.
