Introduction:

Developing a good English vocabulary is the most important way to prepare for the vocabulary you will see on different types of examinations. In addition, it is very important to know the kind of vocabulary you will see on the various examinations and to understand how it is tested.

Vocabulary questions are written in a formal, academic style, typical of most college or university level texts and journals. The topics of these sentences come from such areas as the natural sciences, business, art, and the social sciences. It is important for you to understand that your knowledge of these areas is never tested on different examinations. You do not have to be familiar with the content of the sentences in order to be successful on vocabulary section or the reading comprehension section of each examination. Remember that your general vocabulary is tested in all sections of the examinations such as TOEFL or IELTS.

Having taught at the university level for a few years, the authors of this book came to this conclusion that a comprehensive vocabulary book is needed for the university students to broaden and deepen their vocabulary knowledge. So, they decided to compile such a book which attempts to meet and fulfill the needs of those students working and studying in different areas of English including vocabulary and reading comprehension. Moreover, this book can be used as a supplementary book for the students of basic and general English courses.

999 essential words – Volume one - is divided into ten units, each containing a list of fifty words accompanied with their pronunciation, definition, Persian equivalent, part of speech, synonym, antonym – if existed – example(s), and derivations. Following these, another part entitled "Test Yourself" is given at the end of each unit, comprising three sections (Matching, Fill in the blanks, and Multiple-choice items), in order to test the learners' achievement of the preceding unit.

In "Test Yourself" section, there are five items in Matching part, five items in Fill in the blanks part and ten items in Multiple-choice part.

For whom the book is intended:

1. The students of A.A. and A.S.
2. The candidates and students of B.A. and B.S.
3. The candidates and students of M.A. and M.S.
4. The candidates of TOEFL, IELTS, TOLIMO, etc.
5. For all those who are interested to gain a thorough knowledge of vocabulary and reading comprehension.
